Introduction to ethics BME 1, December 2025 / Normal Session Exam

By Dr. Thomas Ahoussi, sj

Instructions

Each student must answer a total of five (5) questions from the 7 proposed in a reasoned manner. I expect a developed and clear answer to each question. Question No. 5 is mandatory. The rest is optional. No student can answer more than five questions. It is not necessary to copy the question. Simply indicate the question's number before answering it. The exam lasts three hours.

Questions

1 1° What is ethics? What are the different branches of ethics? Which branch did we studied during the course? And within the branch we studied, what aspect seems to you the most relevant as a future manager? Justify your answer.

2 2° After defining Virtue Ethics, develop the main feature of Aristotle's virtue ethics, and then, the point on which Saint Thomas Aquinas push it further. At the end, give your own appreciation.

4 3° What does it mean to say that utilitarianism is a consequentialist theory? Jeremy Bentham and John Stuart Mill are considered as the two representatives of the utilitarianism current in ethics. Develop this idea.

5) 4°The idea behind categorical imperatives formulated by Kant is that one must perform moral duty solely for its own sake. They have been formulated in various way. Explain each of them, making sure to bring out their relevance in the domain of ethics.

3 * 5° Mandatory question. You are experiencing serious problems in your home and you are about to divorce with your husband/wife with whom you are marriage at the Church. At the same time, you visit your grandmother, a devout Catholic on her dying bed. She asks you how your marriage is going? Are you going to tell her that you are getting divorce or not? Justify your answer on the basis of deontological or utilitarian arguments?

6° In which sense John Rawls's theory of Justice is a correction of utilitarianism ? Then, expose the two principles of justice and indicate how the principle of difference has a high ethical significance.

7° After defining and exposing the circumstances of the advent of feminist ethics, indicate the mains concepts around which it revolves and how it is a correction of traditional normative ethics?